Frequently Asked Questions

I imagine having a classroom full of students with first-hand global perspectives—they are here and excited to share their experience! Study away participants add creative thinking and value to discussions and presentations; they inspire and excite others. As faculty, you can tap into returnee students as well as motivate others to jump at the opportunity.

What Students Are Saying!

Exchange and Study Abroad Alumni

My academic year abroad expanded my world view , increased my critical thinking skills, immersed me in the French language, and strengthened my desire of a career in public service.

Griffin Plush

(Rennes, France)

This study away experience was incredible. My academics were enhanced and personal confidence increased. I actually believe I will be a better student back in the UAS classroom due to my new found knowledge in my study area and strength as a student.

Alexandria Waldschmidt

(California State University, Monterey Bay)

At every turn I was immersed in history and language, and surrounded by amazing architecture and a diversity of people and cultures.

Karen Hamblett

(Seville, Spain)

My semester away renewed my sense of educational purpose, and gave me a better understanding of my program of study in an international arena.
